

List of Hospitals in Toronto and GTA

As part of the Ixchel program, our team do not attend births. This list is intended to be used as a resource to find your nearest hospital and provide contact information for their billing departments.

Regardless of whether you find a care provider, it is recommended to contact the hospital's billing department at least 1 month before delivery to arrange payment when possible. You may be able to negotiate a payment plan with the department ahead of time.

Fee Structuring- Birthing Parent

Depending on the care provider you have, fees may be structured as follows:

Provider Type	Provider Fees	Hospital Fees
OBGYN	Yes	Yes
Midwife	No fees for midwife care	Yes

Service	Average Cost
Emergency Room Fee*	$350-$700 CAD
OB Provider Fee	$2000-$4000 CAD (vaginal or CS delivery)
Epidural Fee*	$600-$1500 CAD
Room Fee	$2700-$4000 CAD per day (ward)
Operating Room Fee for C Section*	$800-$2000 CAD

*Fee does not include physician fee, which are charged separately from the physician's office

Does not include cost of epidural top up if needed during C Section

Fee structures are subject to change at any time, and vary at each hospital. In Ontario, a hospital and their staff cannot ask for payment before providing you treatment. After you have been discharged from the hospital, you can expect to receive two bills in the mail- one from the hospital, and another from the physician's office. Please follow the instructions on the bill for payment options.

Fee Structuring- Newborn

If your baby is born in Ontario, has one parent/guardian that is a resident of Ontario and who will be staying in the province for the next 153 days, you can receive your baby's OHIP card while in the hospital. Since your baby qualifies for OHIP, you can expect fees for baby's needs to be covered. This includes all newborn tests, ward room fees, and any time in the NICU.

LYCHEL
Lynch Prenatal Walk-In Clinic

Please note that if a Toronto hospital is not included on this list, it may not have a labour and delivery department on site. It is important that you arrive at a hospital that has a Labour & Delivery Unit to access the best care for you and your baby.
